Already Have Marketplace Coverage?
You Should Still Compare Plans Every Year

Marketplace plans can change each year— things like costs and coverage. Check out the health plans available in your area each year. You may find a plan that better meets your needs and budget.

Take this quiz to help decide if you should change your plan.

1. Am I satisfied with upcoming changes to my current plan?
2. Does my plan still cover my current doctors and other health care providers?
3. Can I afford my premiums, deductibles, and other costs next year?
4. Is the yearly limit changing for what I pay out-of-pocket?
5. Does my plan still cover the services that I need, like vision coverage?
6. Does my plan still cover my prescription drugs and preferred pharmacies?
7. Am I satisfied with my plan’s quality of services?
8. Have I confirmed that new or more affordable plans aren’t available in my area?

Give yourself 1 point for each “yes” answer.

If you scored between 0 – 3:
Your current plan might not be meeting your needs. You may want to explore other options during Open Enrollment. Visit HealthCare.gov to get started.

If you scored between 4 – 6:
You should see if there are other plan options that meet your needs during Open Enrollment. There could be better, more affordable plans that weren’t available last year. Visit HealthCare.gov to shop and compare.

If you scored 7 or more:  Congrats!
You’re likely enrolled in a plan that fits your current needs and budget. Make sure to pay your monthly premium, report any life changes, and check back during the next Open Enrollment to see if your plan is still the right one for you.
